

Your reputation is your most valuable asset. It's time you controlled it.

One bad day can hurt your reputation for years.

You work hard to provide a 5-star experience. But a single misunderstanding can lead to a public review that unfairly represents your business and turns away new customers.

The review system is fundamentally unbalanced.

Most of your happy customers are busy and forget to leave a review. Your unhappy customers, however, are highly motivated to share their experience. This creates a "reputation gap," leaving your public rating lower than it should be.

Meet Reviews & Marketing.

The smart reputation engine that gives you total control over your public image.

A simple, powerful way to manage your reputation.

The Secret Sauce: Intelligent Customer Routing.

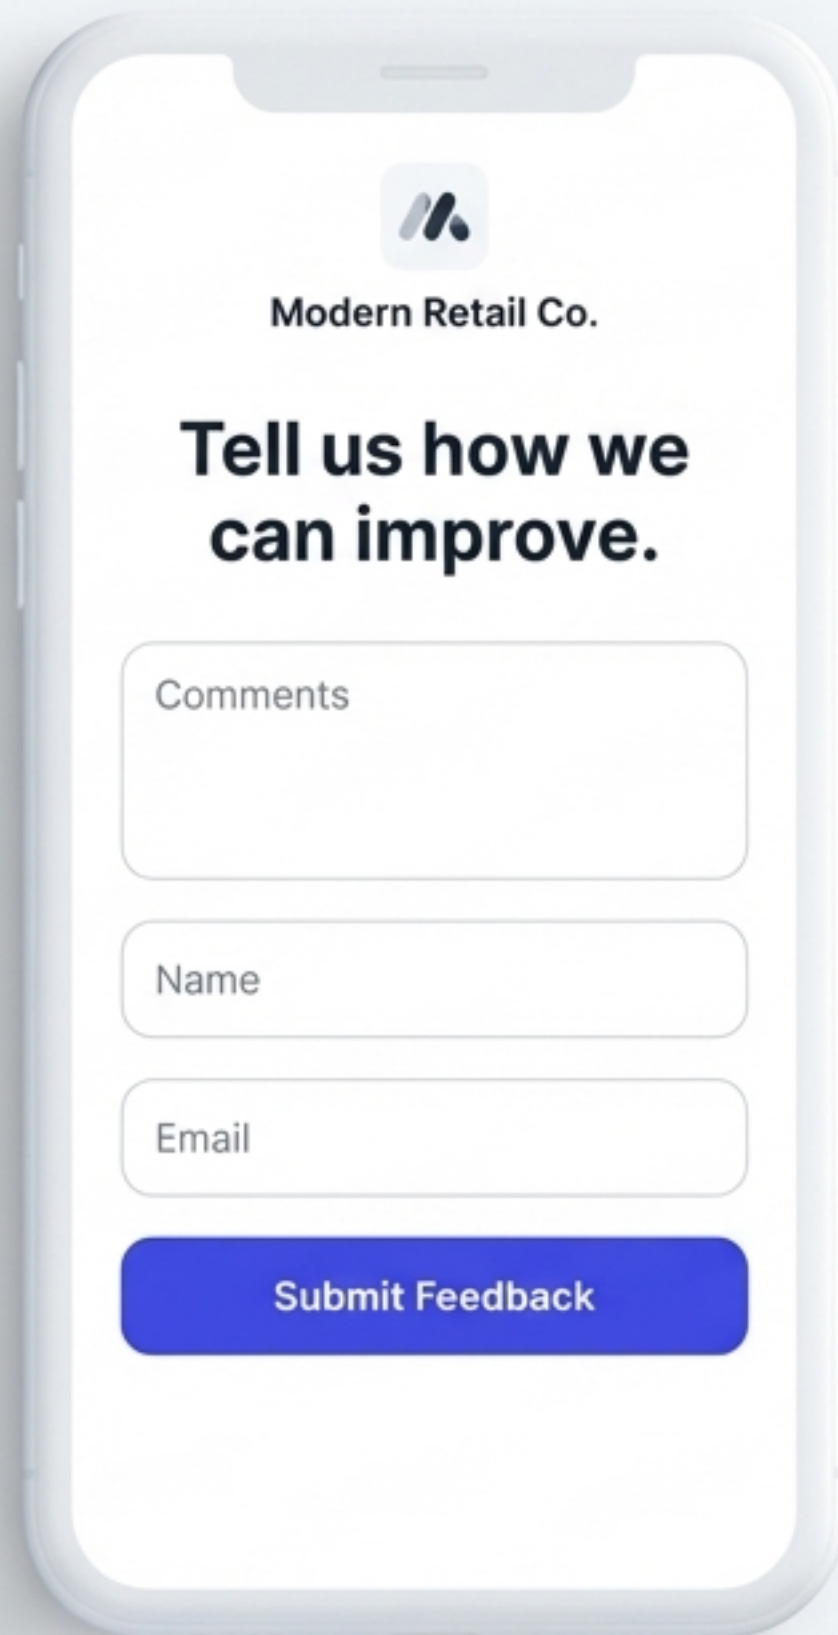

Our system identifies customer sentiment before they are sent to a public review site.

Turn happy customers into your best marketing channel.

When a customer selects five stars, they are seamlessly guided to your Google Business Profile, making it effortless for them to share their positive experience with the world.

Submit Feedback

Intercept negative feedback before it ever goes public.

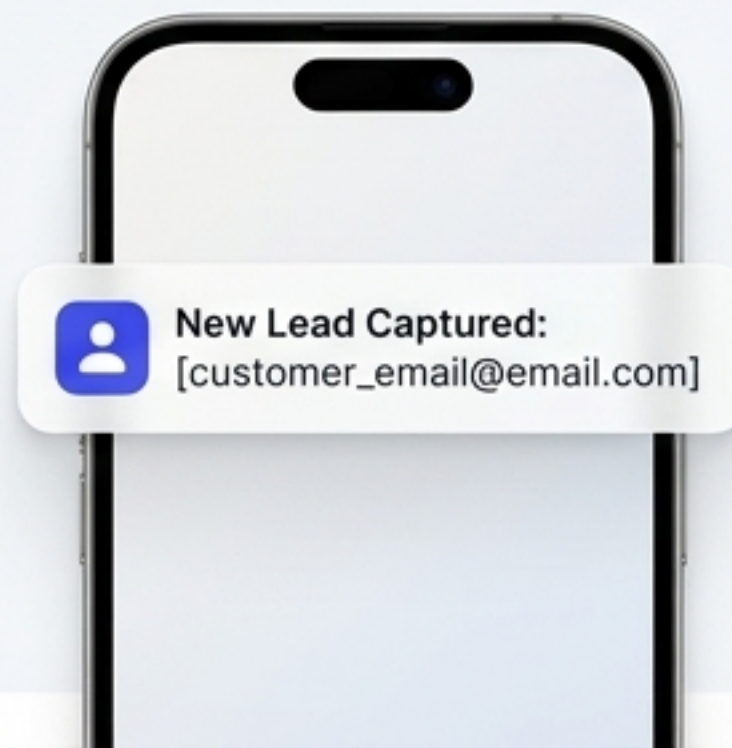

If a customer chooses four stars or fewer, they see a private form asking, "Tell us how we can improve." You get their direct feedback and can solve the problem privately.

Every review becomes a new customer lead.

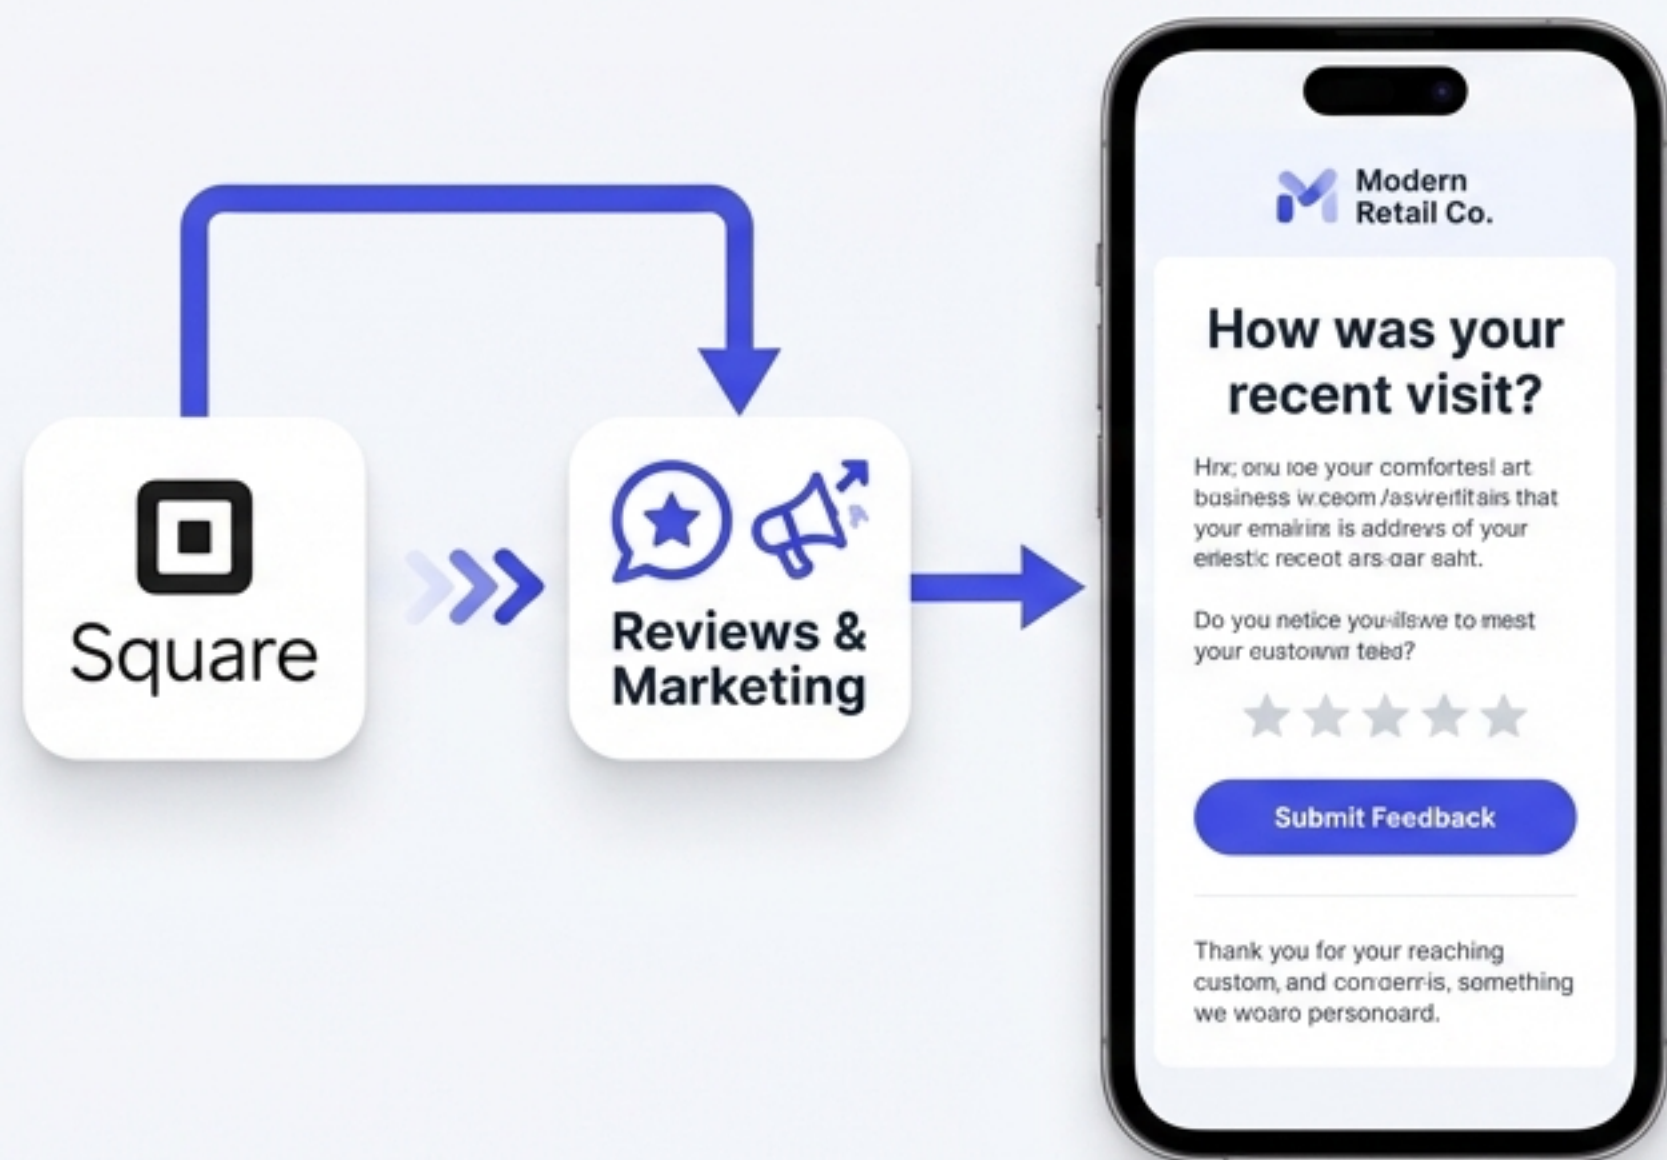

Our private feedback form captures the customer's contact information. You not only solve their issue but also add them to your marketing database for future offers and communication, turning a simple review into a lasting relationship.

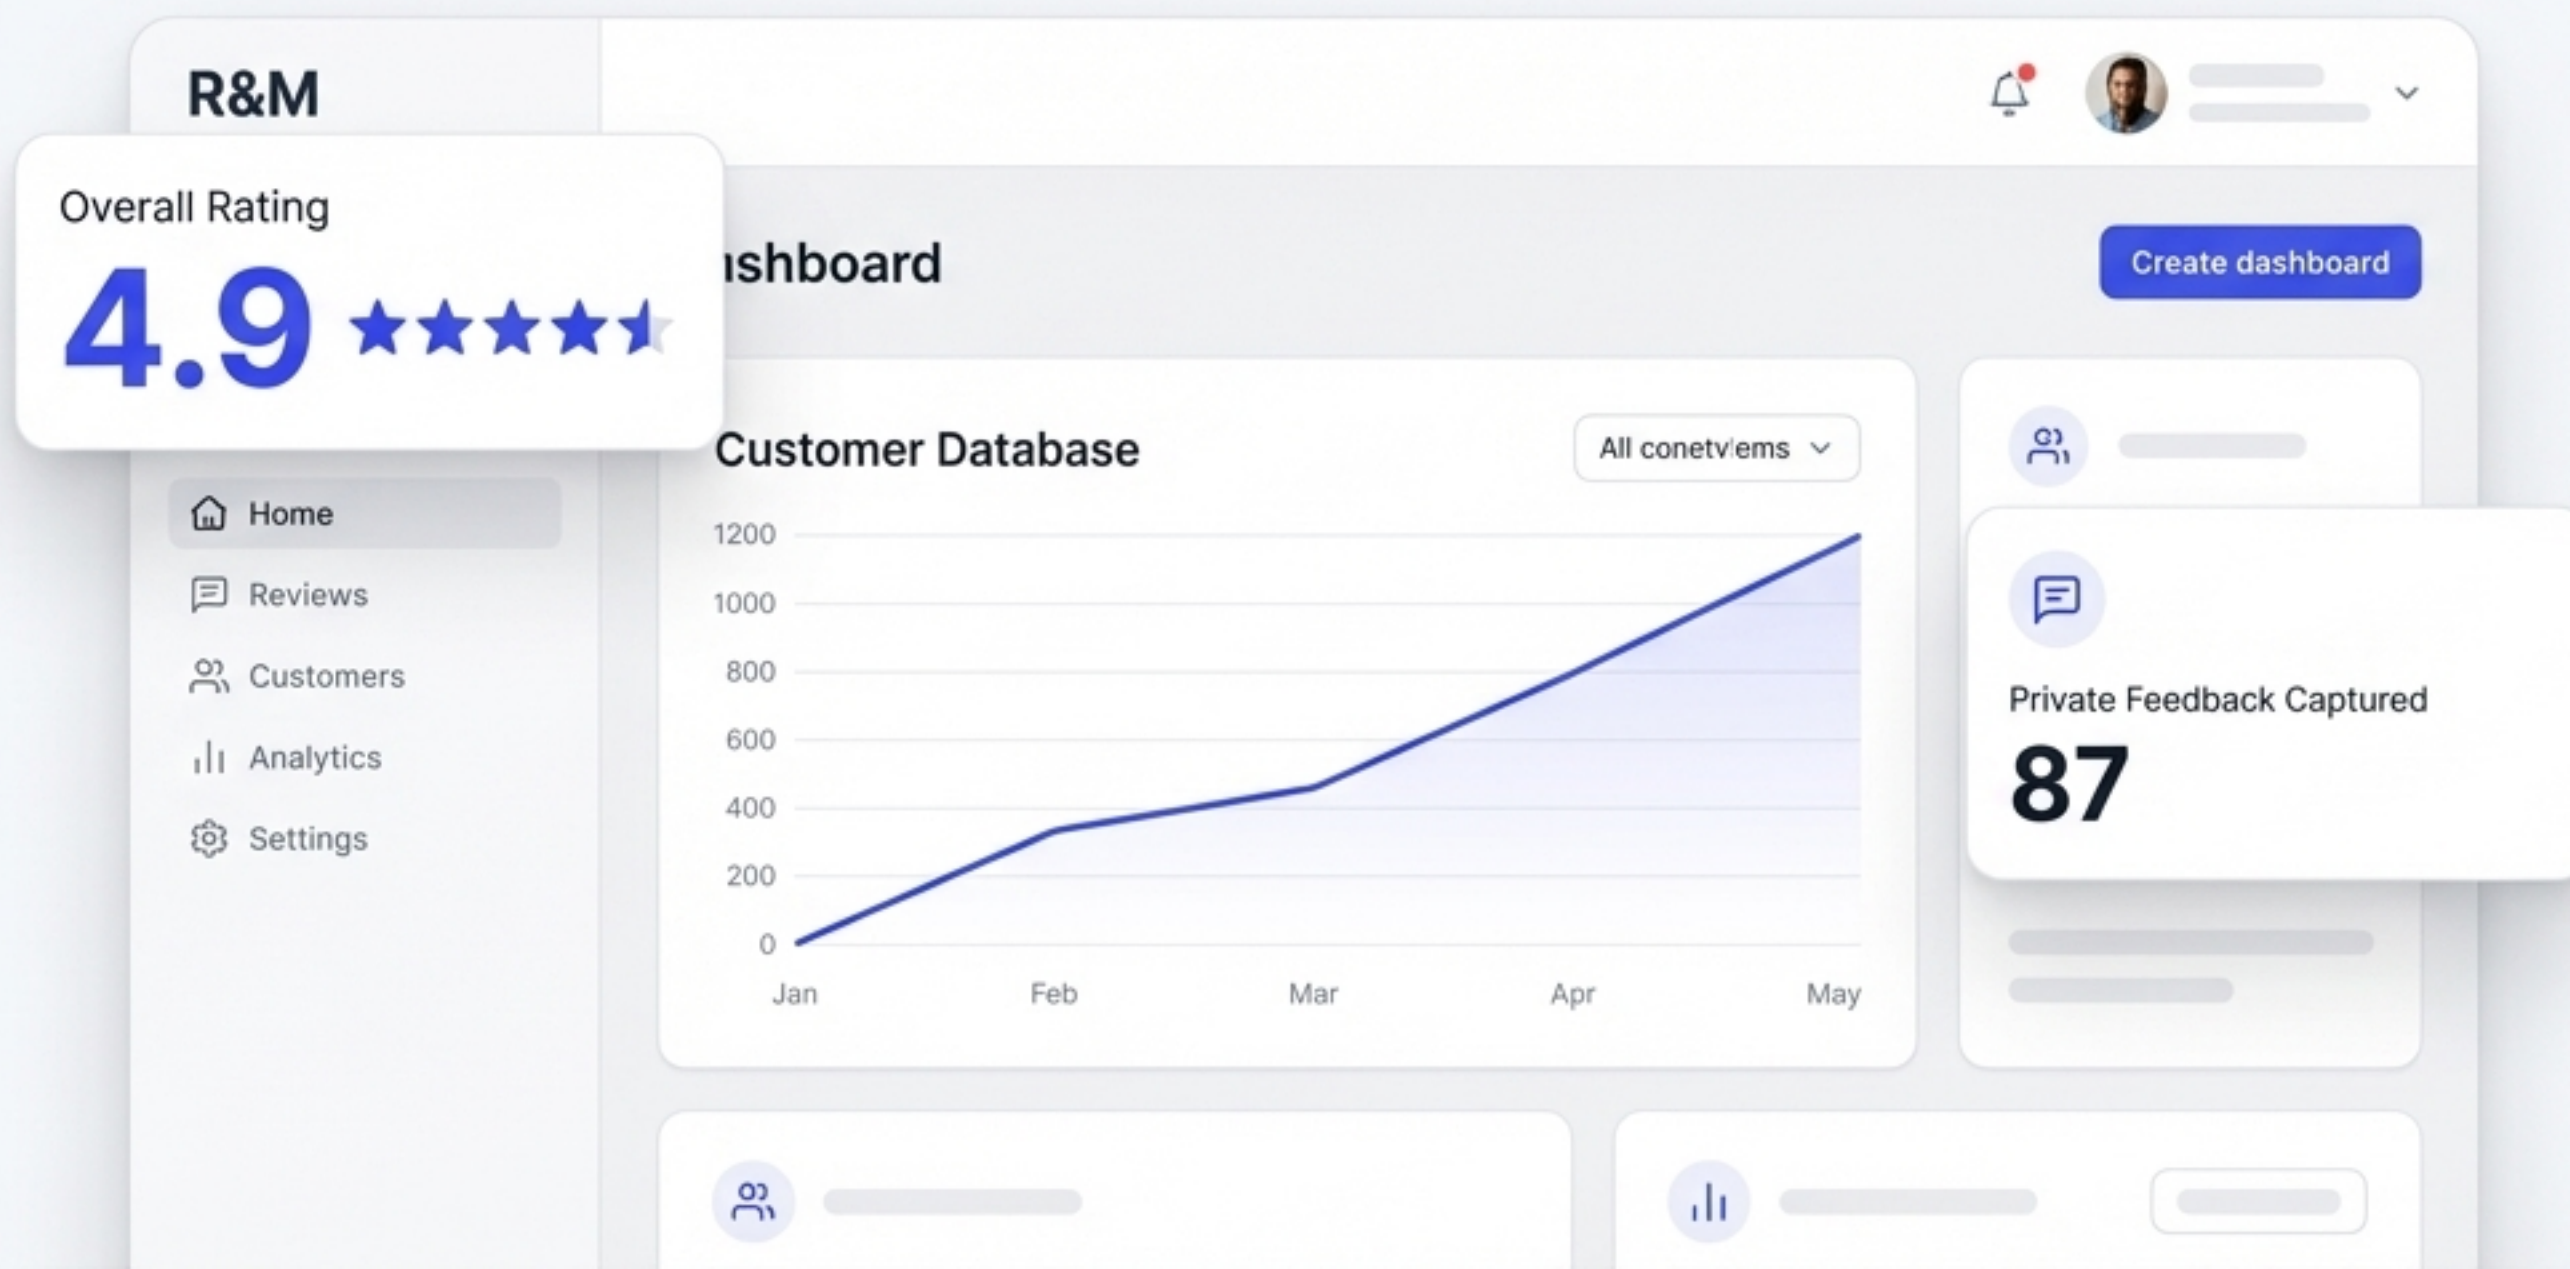

Put your reputation on autopilot with POS Automation.

For the ultimate hands-off approach, our Square integration monitors your sales in real-time. It automatically emails a review request to every single customer after they make a purchase. No QR codes needed.

Watch your ratings climb and your customer list grow.

Stop leaving your reputation to chance. Start building a 5-star business that reflects the quality of your work.

Your business deserves 5 stars.
